저자의 말

안녕하세요. Zootalk은 동물을 캐릭터화 한 스토리로 아이들에게 영어 학습을 더욱 친숙하게 하기 위해 제작되었습니다.

아이들에게 스토리텔링으로 자연스러운 학습환경을 만들어 주고, 그 안에서 영어의 노출을 진행함으로써, 아이들은 더 편안하게 학습을 할 수 있습니다.

정해진 7권의 코스북 외에도, Extended Reading이나 World tour 등 연관된 교재들도 있어서, 아이들의 학습에 더욱 더 도움이 되리라 생각합니다.

아이들이 이 교재들로 더 재미있게 공부하기를 바랍니다.

학습방법

교재는 총 7단계로 구분되어 있으며, 각 레벨마다 보충 교재들이 준비되어 있습니다.

- 1레벨 Kiki (파닉스를 갓 마친 혹은 파닉스 후반부의 학생)
- 2레벨 Bob (파닉스를 마치고, 다양한 어휘학습을 목표)
- 3레벨 Mimi (다양한 표현과 어휘학습을 목표)
- 4레벨 Momo (문법이 포함된 교재로, 다양한 표현도 습득)
- 5레벨 Gum (스토리마다 관련된 질문으로 사고력 향상)
- 6레벨 Leo (과거형을 사용하며, 사고력 향상을 목표)
- 7레벨 Kiri (과거형을 사용하며, 깊은 사고력 관련 포함)

Unit 1:
The Hidden
Path

A vibrant forest scene with a large wooden sign in the center. The sign is decorated with pink flowers and green leaves. Above the sign, three colorful birds (blue, pink, and yellow) are flying. On either side of the sign, a small brown squirrel is perched on a tree branch. In the foreground, a pink elephant with large ears and a yellow flower on its head is standing on a dirt path. The elephant is wearing a pink dress with a bow and has its trunk raised. The path is surrounded by lush green foliage, pink and purple flowers, and a small wooden signpost with an arrow pointing right. The background shows a dense forest with tall trees and sunlight filtering through the leaves.

Kiri walked through the forest one morning. The air felt cool and fresh. Birds chirped high in the trees. She noticed footprints near the trail. They led behind thick green bushes. “Where does this path go?” Kiri wondered. She pushed aside the leafy branches. A narrow path appeared before her. Kiri decided to explore carefully.

Where was Kiri walking?

2

What did Kiri notice near the trail?

3

What did Kiri decide to do?

The hidden path twisted through the woods. Kiri saw colorful wildflowers beside the trail. Suddenly, she heard a worried voice nearby. "I cannot find my way back," said a rabbit. The small rabbit looked frightened and tired. Kiri knelt beside her gently. "I will help you," Kiri replied. Together, they thought about what to do. The rabbit began to feel calmer.

1

Who did Kiri meet on the path?

2

What problem did the rabbit have?

3

What did Kiri promise to do?

Kiri remembered the footprints from earlier. She examined the ground very closely. The rabbit pointed toward a fallen log. They discovered more tracks beside it. "These look familiar," the rabbit said. Kiri followed the trail with patience. Soon, they reached a small clearing. The rabbit recognized the nearby stream. Hope returned to her face.

1

What did Kiri examine closely?

2

What did the rabbit recognize?

3

How did the rabbit feel at the end?

The stream led them to the rabbit's home. The rabbit's family waited anxiously outside. They thanked Kiri for her kindness. "You were very brave," said the rabbit. Kiri smiled at the compliment. She had discovered more than a hidden path. She had helped someone in need. Together, they celebrated the happy reunion.

1 Where did the stream lead Kiri and the rabbit?

2 What did the rabbit's family say to Kiri?

3 What important thing had Kiri done?

Unit 2: The Lost Map

Kiri visited the park on a sunny morning. She planned to explore a nature trail. A wooden sign stood beside the path. Suddenly, she noticed a map on the ground. No one stood nearby to claim it. Kiri picked it up carefully. The map looked old and important. "Someone must be missing this," she said. She decided to find its owner.

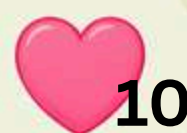

1 Where did Kiri visit?

2 What did Kiri find on the ground?

3 What did Kiri decide to do?

Kiri followed the trail through the park. She looked around for worried visitors. Soon, she spotted a fox near a bench. The fox searched through his backpack anxiously. “Have you lost something?” Kiri asked kindly. The fox nodded and sighed deeply. He had lost his map earlier. Without it, he could not continue. Kiri showed him the map immediately.

1 Who did Kiri meet?

2 What had the fox lost?

3 How did Kiri help him?

The fox thanked Kiri for returning it. Then he studied the map carefully. “I wanted to visit Eagle Hill,” he explained. Kiri looked at the map too. A corner of the paper was torn. Some directions were difficult to read. Together, they examined the nearby signs. Soon, they understood the correct route. The fox smiled with relief.

1 Where did the fox want to go?

2 What was wrong with the map?

3 How did Kiri and the fox solve the problem?

The fox followed the route confidently. Before leaving, he thanked Kiri again. “Your kindness saved my adventure,” he said. Kiri felt proud of helping him. She continued along her own trail. The forest looked beautiful in the sunlight. She discovered new places that afternoon. It became a memorable day for both friends.

1 What did the fox say to Kiri?

2 How did Kiri feel after helping?

3 Why was the day memorable?

Unit 3: The Empty Basket

Kiri visited the farmers' market one morning. Many shoppers filled the busy streets. Fresh fruit smelled sweet and delicious. As Kiri walked past a bench, she noticed an empty basket. No one stood nearby to claim it. Kiri looked around with curiosity. The basket seemed clean and well cared for. "Someone may be looking for this," she said. She decided to investigate.

1 Where did Kiri visit?

2 What did Kiri find near the bench?

3 What did Kiri decide to do?

Kiri carried the basket through the market. Soon, she heard someone calling softly. A squirrel searched between several stalls. The squirrel looked worried and upset. “Have you seen my basket?” she asked. Kiri showed her the basket immediately. The squirrel smiled with relief. However, another problem remained. The basket was still empty.

1 Who was looking for the basket?

2 How did the squirrel feel?

3 What problem still remained?

The squirrel explained what had happened. She had collected vegetables for her family. While carrying the basket, she tripped. The vegetables rolled in different directions. Kiri offered to help find them. Together, they searched the market carefully. They found carrots beside a flower stand. They discovered potatoes near a bakery. The basket slowly filled again.

1 Why did the squirrel lose her vegetables?

2 What did Kiri offer to do?

3 Which vegetables did they find?

Soon, every vegetable was safely returned. The squirrel thanked Kiri for her kindness. “I could not do this alone,” she said. Kiri smiled warmly at her friend. The basket was no longer empty. The squirrel hurried home happily. Kiri continued exploring the market. She felt proud of helping someone today.

1 What happened to the vegetables?

2 What did the squirrel say to Kiri?

3 How did Kiri feel at the end?

★ Unit 4: ★ The Firefly Night

One warm evening, Kiri visited a meadow. The sun was slowly setting behind hills. Tall grass swayed in the gentle breeze. Suddenly, tiny lights flickered nearby. Kiri stopped and looked more closely. Fireflies danced above the flowers. Their glowing lights seemed magical. "What a beautiful sight," Kiri whispered. She decided to watch them awhile.

1 Where did Kiri visit?

2 What did Kiri see in the meadow?

3 What did Kiri decide to do?

As darkness spread across the meadow, more fireflies appeared. Their lights blinked brightly in the night. Kiri noticed a young hedgehog nearby. He looked confused and worried. "I cannot find my family," he said. The darkness had hidden familiar landmarks. Kiri wanted to help him. Together, they searched the meadow carefully. The glowing fireflies lit their way.

1 Who did Kiri meet?

2 What problem did the hedgehog have?

3 How did the fireflies help?

Kiri and the hedgehog followed a narrow trail. They searched beside bushes and trees. Soon, Kiri noticed something familiar. Small footprints crossed the soft ground. The hedgehog recognized them immediately. "Those belong to my family," he exclaimed. They followed the tracks with hope. Fireflies flickered around them like lanterns. The trail led toward a nearby hill.

1 What did Kiri notice on the ground?

2 Who did the footprints belong to?

3 Where did the trail lead?

Near the hill, voices called softly. The hedgehog hurried toward the sound. His family waited beside a large tree. They welcomed him with joyful smiles. Everyone thanked Kiri for her help. "You guided me home," said the hedgehog. Kiri smiled at her new friend. The fireflies continued glowing around them. It was a night she would remember.

1 Where was the hedgehog's family waiting?

2 What did the hedgehog say to Kiri?

3 Why would Kiri remember this night?

Unit 5: The Stone Bridge

Kiri explored a forest near the river. She followed a winding trail downstream. Soon, she discovered an old stone bridge. The bridge crossed the sparkling water below. Kiri admired its strong stone arches. Then she noticed a warning sign nearby. Several stones looked loose and uneven. Crossing the bridge seemed difficult. Kiri wondered how others managed safely.

1 What did Kiri discover?

2 What did Kiri notice near the bridge?

3 Why did crossing seem difficult?

As Kiri examined the bridge, she heard voices. A family of rabbits stood nearby. They wanted to reach a meadow across the river. However, they felt nervous about crossing. One rabbit pointed at the loose stones. “What if someone slips?” he asked. Kiri understood their concern immediately. She decided to inspect the bridge closely. Everyone waited for her advice.

1 Who wanted to cross the bridge?

2 Why were the rabbits worried?

3 What did Kiri decide to do?

Kiri walked carefully across the bridge. She tested each stone with caution. Most stones felt strong and steady. Only a few needed attention. Kiri gathered fallen branches from nearby trees. Then she marked the unsafe places clearly. The rabbits watched her work closely. Soon, everyone understood where to step. The bridge became much safer.

1 How did Kiri test the bridge?

2 What did Kiri use to mark unsafe places?

3 What did the rabbits learn?

The rabbits crossed the bridge one by one. They followed Kiri's markings carefully. Soon, everyone reached the meadow safely. The rabbits thanked Kiri for her help. "You solved a difficult problem," said one rabbit. Kiri smiled proudly at the group. The meadow stretched brightly before them. It became a wonderful day beside the river.

1 How did the rabbits cross the bridge?

2 What did the rabbits say to Kiri?

3 Where did everyone arrive safely?

Unit 6:

The Lantern Festival

Kiri arrived at the town square early. Everyone prepared for the lantern festival. Colorful lanterns hung from trees and poles. Music drifted through the busy streets. Kiri admired the beautiful decorations. Then she noticed dark clouds overhead. The wind began blowing more strongly. Several lanterns swayed from side to side. Kiri hoped the festival could continue.

1 What event was taking place?

2 What did Kiri notice in the sky?

3 Why was Kiri concerned?

Soon, the wind became even stronger. Several lanterns twisted on their strings. One decoration nearly fell to the ground. The festival organizers looked worried. “We worked hard for this event,” said a fox. Kiri understood their problem immediately. She examined the lanterns carefully. Then she thought of a solution. Everyone listened to her idea.

1 What happened to the lanterns?

2 Who looked worried?

3 What did Kiri do?

Kiri suggested securing the lanterns more firmly. Friends gathered ropes and extra ties. Together, they worked around the square. Some animals tightened loose knots carefully. Others moved lanterns to safer places. Kiri checked each decoration closely. The teamwork made a big difference. Soon, the lanterns stayed steady. Everyone felt more confident.

1 What did Kiri suggest?

2 How did everyone help?

3 What happened after their work?

As evening arrived, the wind finally calmed. Hundreds of lanterns glowed across the square. Their colorful lights brightened the night. Families gathered to enjoy the celebration. The organizers thanked Kiri for her help. “You saved our festival,” said the fox. Kiri smiled at her friends proudly. It became a wonderful evening for everyone.

3

Why was the evening special?

Unit 7: The Surprise Guest

COMMUNITY
PICNIC
❤️

Kiri spent the morning helping in the park. A community picnic would begin soon. Friends arranged food and decorations everywhere. Laughter filled the sunny gathering place. As Kiri carried a basket, she noticed someone unfamiliar. A small raccoon stood beneath a tree. He watched the preparations quietly. Kiri wondered who he was. She decided to introduce herself.

1 What event was being prepared?

2 Who did Kiri notice?

3 What did Kiri decide to do?

Kiri walked over and greeted the raccoon. He smiled but seemed nervous. “My family moved here yesterday,” he explained. The raccoon did not know anyone yet. He worried about joining the picnic. Kiri listened carefully to his concerns. She understood how he felt. “You are welcome here,” she said kindly. The raccoon looked relieved.

1 Why was the raccoon nervous?

2 What did Kiri do when he spoke?

3 What did Kiri tell him?

Kiri introduced the raccoon to her friends. Everyone greeted him with friendly smiles. Soon, they played games together. The raccoon joined a relay race happily. Later, he helped organize picnic supplies. He discovered many shared interests. The group laughed and talked for hours. His confidence grew throughout the afternoon. Kiri felt happy watching him.

1 What did Kiri do for the raccoon?

2 What activities did the raccoon join?

3 How did the raccoon feel later?

As the picnic ended, the raccoon thanked Kiri. “Today felt much less frightening,” he said. Kiri smiled warmly at her new friend. The raccoon no longer felt alone. He had met many welcoming neighbors. His family would enjoy living there. Kiri was glad she had reached out. A simple greeting had made a difference.

1

What did the raccoon thank Kiri for?

2

How did the raccoon feel at the end?

3

What lesson did Kiri learn?

Unit 8:

The Cleanup Day

Kiri arrived at the park early. Volunteers gathered for a cleanup day. Everyone wanted to help the community. Gloves and trash bags were ready. Kiri noticed litter beside the walking paths. Some areas looked untidy and neglected. “We have plenty of work today,” she said. Her friends nodded in agreement. Then the cleanup began.

1 Why did everyone gather at the park?

2 What did Kiri notice?

3 What happened at the end of the page?

Kiri worked carefully with her friends. They collected paper, bottles, and wrappers. Soon, the paths looked much cleaner. Then Kiri spotted another problem. A flower bed was covered with weeds. The plants underneath looked weak. Kiri knelt down to examine them. “These flowers need help too,” she said. Her friends agreed immediately.

1 What items did the group collect?

2 What problem did Kiri find next?

3 What did Kiri say about the flowers?

The group began removing weeds together. They worked patiently throughout the afternoon. Kiri carried piles of weeds away. Others watered the thirsty flowers carefully. Fresh soil was added around the plants. Soon, bright colors appeared once more. The flower bed looked healthier already. Everyone admired their progress proudly. Their teamwork had solved another problem.

1 How did the group help the flowers?

2 What happened to the flower bed?

3 How did everyone feel?

By evening, the park looked wonderful. The paths were clean and inviting. The flowers bloomed brightly in the sunlight. Visitors stopped to admire the changes. They thanked the volunteers for their effort. Kiri smiled at the happy reactions. The hard work had made a difference. Everyone celebrated a successful cleanup day.

1 How did the park look by evening?

2 What did visitors do?

3 Why was the cleanup day successful?

Unit 9: The Friendship Picnic

FRIENDS TOGETHER,
MEMORIES FOREVER!

GOOD FOOD
GREAT FRIENDS
HAPPY HEARTS

Kiri helped organize a friendship picnic. Friends arrived early with food and games. The meadow looked bright and cheerful. Colorful blankets covered the soft grass. Everyone seemed excited for the event. Then Kiri noticed a problem nearby. One picnic basket looked unusually empty. Several important supplies were missing. Kiri wondered what had happened.

1 What event was Kiri helping organize?

2 What problem did Kiri notice?

3 How did Kiri feel about the empty basket?

Kiri asked her friends about the basket. Nobody knew where the supplies had gone. They searched around the picnic area. Soon, Kiri spotted small tracks nearby. The footprints led toward a patch of bushes. "Let's follow them carefully," she suggested. Her friends agreed and followed behind. The mystery became more interesting. Everyone hoped to find answers soon.

1 What did Kiri find near the picnic area?

2 Where did the tracks lead?

3 What did Kiri suggest?

Behind the bushes, they found a young squirrel. The squirrel sat beside the missing supplies. He looked embarrassed and nervous. "I thought these were left behind," he explained. Kiri listened patiently to his story. The squirrel had not meant any harm. He simply made an honest mistake. Kiri smiled kindly at him. The problem was finally understood.

1 Who had the missing supplies?

2 Why did the squirrel take them?

3 How did Kiri react?

The squirrel returned everything to the picnic. Friends welcomed him warmly to the celebration. Soon, everyone shared food and stories. Laughter filled the meadow all afternoon. The squirrel made several new friends. He thanked Kiri for her kindness. Kiri felt happy about the outcome. A small misunderstanding had brought everyone together. The friendship picnic became a great success.

1 What did the squirrel do with the supplies?

2 What happened during the picnic?

3 Why was the picnic a success?

Unit 10: The Rainy Afternoon

Kiri planned to spend the afternoon outside. She packed snacks and a storybook. The sky looked clear that morning. However, dark clouds appeared after lunch. A cool wind swept through the park. Soon, raindrops began falling from above. People hurried to find shelter nearby. Kiri watched the weather carefully. She wondered how the day would change.

1

What had Kiri planned to do?

2

What appeared after lunch?

3

Why did people hurry away?

The rain quickly became much heavier. Kiri found shelter beneath a pavilion. Several animals gathered there as well. Everyone looked disappointed by the weather. A young fox sighed sadly. "Our afternoon is ruined," he said. Kiri listened to the fox quietly. Then she looked around thoughtfully. An idea began forming in her mind.

1 Where did Kiri find shelter?

2 How did the fox feel?

3 What happened to Kiri?

Kiri suggested playing games inside the pavilion. The group agreed with excitement. Some friends played word games together. Others shared stories and funny jokes. Laughter soon replaced the earlier disappointment. The rain continued falling outside. Nobody seemed bothered anymore. The afternoon became lively and cheerful. Kiri was glad she had spoken up.

1 What did Kiri suggest?

2 What activities did the friends do?

3 How did the mood change?

Later, the rain finally stopped falling. Sunlight broke through the clouds again. A bright rainbow appeared across the sky. Everyone stepped outside to admire it. The fox smiled at Kiri gratefully. "This became a wonderful day," he said. Kiri smiled back at her friends. Sometimes surprises led to happy memories. The rainy afternoon ended beautifully.

1 What appeared after the rain?

2 What did the fox say to Kiri?

3 How did the rainy afternoon end?

Unit 11:

The

Park Puzzle

Kiri visited the park on a sunny day. A special puzzle event was underway. Participants searched for clues around the park. Kiri received her first clue card. It contained a short riddle. She read the words carefully. The clue mentioned flowers and butterflies. Kiri looked around thoughtfully. Then she began her search.

1 Where did Kiri go?

2 What did Kiri receive?

3 What did the clue mention?

Kiri followed a path toward the gardens. Butterflies fluttered among bright flowers. Soon, she discovered another clue hidden nearby. However, the next riddle seemed difficult. Kiri read it several times. “What could this mean?” she wondered. A turtle nearby noticed her confusion. He offered to help solve it. Together, they examined the clue.

1 Where did Kiri find the next clue?

2 Why was Kiri confused?

3 Who offered to help?

The clue pointed toward an old fountain. Kiri and the turtle hurried there. Water sparkled in the afternoon sunlight. Behind the fountain, they found another card. This clue led to a wooden gazebo. The pair followed the directions carefully. Excitement grew with every discovery. Soon, they reached the final location. One last clue waited there.

1 Where did the clue point first?

2 What did they find behind the fountain?

3 How did Kiri and the turtle feel?

The final clue revealed a hidden prize. It was a basket of treats for participants. Kiri and the turtle cheered happily. They had solved every puzzle together. Other players soon arrived as well. Everyone shared the treats and stories. The turtle thanked Kiri for her teamwork. Kiri smiled at her new friend. The park puzzle was a great success.

1 What was the hidden prize?

2 Who helped Kiri solve the puzzle?

3 Why was the event a success?

Unit 12:

The Lost Puppy

Kiri spent the afternoon in the park. Children laughed near the playground. Birds sang from the nearby trees. As Kiri walked along a path, she noticed a puppy. The small dog sat alone beside a bench. He looked worried and uncomfortable. Kiri approached him carefully. "Are you lost?" she asked gently. The puppy nodded sadly.

1 Where was Kiri spending the afternoon?

2 Who did Kiri notice?

3 What did the puppy do when Kiri asked a question?

The puppy explained what had happened. He had followed a butterfly earlier. While chasing it, he wandered too far. Soon, he could not find his family. Kiri listened to his story carefully. The puppy seemed frightened and tired. Kiri wanted to help immediately. Together, they thought about possible clues. Then the puppy remembered something useful.

1 Why did the puppy get lost?

2 How did the puppy feel?

3 What did Kiri want to do?

The puppy remembered a red picnic blanket. His family had used it earlier. Kiri looked around the park carefully. Then she spotted a red blanket nearby. Several animals stood beside it. The puppy's eyes widened with excitement. "That looks familiar!" he exclaimed. Kiri and the puppy hurried across the grass. They hoped they had found the right place.

1 What clue did the puppy remember?

2 What did Kiri spot?

3 Why was the puppy excited?

As they approached, familiar voices called out. The puppy's family rushed forward happily. They had searched throughout the park. Everyone felt relieved to see him. The family thanked Kiri for her kindness. "You helped us find him," they said. Kiri smiled warmly at the reunion. The puppy wagged his tail excitedly. It was a joyful ending for everyone.

1 Who did the puppy find?

2 What did the family say to Kiri?

3 How did the story end?

Unit 13: The Bake Sale

Kiri volunteered at a community bake sale. Friends brought many delicious treats to share. Tables filled with cookies and cakes. Visitors began arriving early that morning. Everyone hoped to raise money for the park. Kiri helped arrange signs and decorations. Then she noticed a problem nearby. One table looked much emptier than expected. The missing treats worried the organizers.

1 What event was Kiri helping with?

2 Why was the bake sale important?

3 What problem did Kiri notice?

The organizers searched the area carefully. Nobody could find the missing treats. Kiri looked behind tables and boxes. Soon, she noticed crumbs on the ground. The crumbs formed a small trail. “This could be a clue,” Kiri said. Her friends followed the trail with interest. It led toward a storage shed nearby. Everyone wondered what they would discover.

1 What clue did Kiri find?

2 Where did the trail lead?

3 How did the friends react?

Behind the shed, they found a young raccoon. Several trays sat beside him. The raccoon looked surprised and embarrassed. “I thought nobody wanted these,” he explained. Kiri listened patiently to his story. The raccoon had misunderstood the situation. He never meant to cause trouble. Kiri explained the bake sale kindly. The raccoon offered to help immediately.

1 Who had the missing treats?

2 Why did the raccoon take them?

3 What did the raccoon decide to do?

The raccoon returned the trays to the tables. Then he helped serve visitors all afternoon. Customers enjoyed the delicious baked goods. The bake sale raised plenty of money. Organizers thanked everyone for their effort. The raccoon felt proud of helping. Kiri smiled at the successful event. A misunderstanding had become a valuable lesson. Everyone went home feeling happy.

1

What did the raccoon do after returning the trays?

2

What happened at the bake sale?

3

How did everyone feel at the end?

Unit 14: ⚡

The Power Outage

Kiri visited the community center one evening. Friends gathered for games and activities. Rain tapped softly against the windows. Everyone enjoyed the cozy atmosphere. Suddenly, the lights flickered overhead. A moment later, everything went dark. Surprised voices filled the room. Nobody expected the power outage. Kiri remained calm and thoughtful.

1 Where was Kiri?

2 What happened to the lights?

3 How did Kiri react?

The room became quiet for a moment. Some younger animals looked nervous. “What should we do now?” asked a rabbit. Kiri looked around the dark hall. Then she remembered the emergency supplies. She found several flashlights in a cabinet. Friends helped distribute them around the room. Soon, warm beams of light appeared.

1 Who looked nervous?

2 What did Kiri remember?

3 What appeared around the room?

With the flashlights shining, everyone felt better. However, the activities could not continue normally. Kiri suggested telling stories together instead. Friends gathered in a circle eagerly. One by one, they shared funny adventures. Laughter echoed through the hall again. The power was still out. Yet nobody seemed disappointed anymore. The evening became surprisingly enjoyable.

1 What did Kiri suggest?

2 What did the friends share?

3 How did everyone feel?

Later, the lights suddenly returned. Cheers filled the community center. Everyone clapped and smiled happily. The activities could continue once again. A fox thanked Kiri for her leadership. “You helped us enjoy the evening,” he said. Kiri smiled at her friends warmly. The outage had brought everyone closer together. It became a memorable night.

1 What happened later in the evening?

2 What did the fox say to Kiri?

3 Why was the night memorable?

Unit 15: The Garden Pond

GARDEN

Kiri visited the community garden one morning. Volunteers worked on an exciting project. They planned to build a small pond. The pond would attract birds and frogs. Everyone helped carry stones and plants. Kiri enjoyed working with her friends. Then she noticed something concerning. The pond seemed smaller than expected. Kiri wondered what had happened.

1 What project were the volunteers working on?

2 Why were they building the pond?

3 What problem did Kiri notice?

The volunteers examined the pond together. Soon, they discovered the problem. Water was slowly leaking through one side. A small gap had formed between stones. “That explains everything,” said a turtle. The group discussed possible solutions. Kiri studied the edge carefully. Then she suggested adding more stones. Everyone agreed with her idea.

1 What problem did the volunteers discover?

2 Who explained the situation?

3 What did Kiri suggest?

The volunteers gathered extra stones nearby. Together, they repaired the pond edge. Kiri carefully placed several large stones. Others added smaller ones between them. Soon, the leaking water stopped completely. Everyone watched the pond fill steadily. Water plants were added around the edges. The pond began looking beautiful. The group felt proud of their work.

1 How did the group repair the pond?

2 What happened to the leak?

3 How did everyone feel?

A few days later, Kiri returned. The pond was thriving beautifully. Dragonflies hovered above the water. Birds stopped by for a drink. A frog rested among the plants. The garden felt more lively than before. Volunteers admired the successful project. Kiri smiled at the peaceful scene. The garden pond had become a wonderful home.

1 What animals visited the pond?

2 How did the garden feel?

3 What had the pond become?

The End!
