A Kite in the Tree

LITTLE READERS

Ella takes her kite outside.
Dad holds the string.

The wind lifts the kite.
Ella walks on the grass.

The kite goes up high.
Its tail moves in the wind.

The wind turns.
The kite goes toward a tree.

Its tail catches a branch.
Ella stops pulling.

Ella looks up.
She cannot reach her kite.

Ella puts a foot up.
Dad asks her to stay down.

They look at the branch.
Dad can reach it.

Ella holds the string.
Dad lifts the tail off.

The kite drops down.
Dad catches it.

They check the kite.
It is not torn.

Ella looks at the trees.
They are too close.

Dad points to a field.
No trees grow there.

They go to the field.
Dad carries the kite.

The kite flies again.
It has lots of space.

Ella stays on the grass.
Dad smiles at her.
